EXPERIENCE

Lee has a strong background in business management and operations, which makes him a valuable asset to his clients. His ability to understand the needs of his corporate clients with regard to facilities, personnel, budgeting, manufacturing and distribution allow him to work with potential users in a way that is difficult to match in the real estate industry. Lee has been in the real estate industry in varying capacity since 1980. He has serviced clients in both the commercial and residential arenas and continues to maintain a wide scope of services.
